The space in a typical testing center shows the separations in cubes and spread-out seating compared to standard classroom settings. The testing room is quiet (no speaking is allowed), noise cancellation phones are provided when requested in advance.

For more details about CRCC ADA accommodations, refer to the CRC Certification Guide.

3. Information supplied by Physician or Licensed/Certified Professional

The above-named candidate has applied to sit for the Certified Rehabilitation Counselor exam. This exam consists of 175-multiple choice questions. The exam is delivered via computer and is completely accessible with all forms of assistive technology and/or devices. Each candidate is provided a private cubicle and privacy headphones are available. There is no verbal or written communication with other persons in the room during the exam. There is a time limit of 3.5 hours to complete the exam content, as well as separate time for pre-test tutorials and post-test evaluation for a total of up to 4 hours.

The above-named person has requested the selected accommodations that require medical documentation of need. Your signature testifies that you provide care, or have provided care, to the above-named person and that the requested accommodations are reasonable and necessary for the type of exam and environment described above.

State a specific diagnosis of a disability.

Give a detailed description of the applicant's current functional limitations due to the diagnosed disability.

Recommend specific accommodations, including assistive devices, related to test taking needs. Provide a detailed explanation of why these accommodations or devices are needed and how they will reduce the impact of the identified functional limitations on the examination for which they are requested.
